

Teen Pregnancy Prevention Technical Assistance Services and Supports

Planning and Management

- Needs assessment
- Collaboration and stakeholder participation
- Goal setting/logic models
- Program management, organization, and oversight
- Sub-awardee involvement
- Supervision and coaching
- Sustainability planning

Implementation

- Evidence-based model implementation strategies
- Adulthood preparation subjects
- Adolescent development
- Adolescent reproductive health
- Cultural sensitivity and identification of models that work best in servicing special populations of youths who are American Indian, Alaska Native, African American, Hispanic, lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender
- Best practices in providing services to youths in special circumstances of pregnancy, parenting, aging out of foster care and juvenile justice settings, runaway, homeless, and living with HIV/AIDS
- Trauma-informed service delivery skills and resources for victims of family violence
- Use of social and digital media

Evaluation and Assessment

- Fidelity monitoring and continuous quality improvement
- Local evaluation

Technical Assistance (TA) Referrals

- Referrals for TA are initiated by project officers. Grantees can request TA support through their assigned project officers.
- In-depth technical assistance is provided via phone, e-mail, and/or a 1.5-day site visit. The technical assistance process includes:
 - Assessment
 - Recommendation
 - Provision
 - Follow-up

Web-based Tools - COMING SOON!

- Web-based capacity assessment tool to assess:
 - Grantees' capacity to implement strategies with fidelity and make any needed adaptations
 - Age-appropriateness and medical accuracy of programmatic materials
 - Grantees' program conformance with Federal regulations, standards, legislative requirements, and commonly accepted standards of program monitoring and non-profit management
 - Grantees' level of effectiveness in meeting program goals and objectives
- Community of Practice Website
 - Features to support collective learning and sharing of knowledge among grantees