

Examples of Stevens Amendment Documents or Other Publications

The list below provides examples of documents or other publications that may describe a project or program funded in whole or in part with federal money. An acknowledgement of federal funding is required if the description of the project or program relates to the federally funded portion of the project.

Bids for solicitations

Blogs

Brochures

Case studies

Curricula developed by the program/project

E-mail blasts

Issue briefs

Manuals

Peer reviewed journal publications

Poster presentations at scholarly meetings

Presentations at scholarly meetings

Press releases

Promotional materials (fliers, advertisements)

Requests for proposals (including supplemental and continuation proposals)

Resource guides

Statements about the program/project

Toolkits

Visual presentations (e.g., PowerPoint)

Vlogs

Websites