- Project Connect - Futures Without Violence Futures Without Violence were violence-prevention and response initiatives that focused on strengthening collaborations between the public health and domestic violence fields in 2011-2014.
- Project Catalyst: State-Wide Transformation on Health, IPV, and Human Trafficking - Futures Without Violence Futures Without Violence - promotes state-level policy and systems changes that support an integrated and improved response to IPV and human trafficking in community health centers and to other needed services in domestic violence programs.
- The National Center on Domestic Violence, Trauma, and Mental Health provides technical assistance and training to enhance system responses to survivors of intimate partner violence (IPV) who are experiencing the mental health and substance use-related effects of IPV and other lifetime trauma. A 2012 study conducted by NCDVTMH in partnership with the National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors (NASMHPD) found that the majority of states who participated had a strong interest in further coordination and/or training on these issues.

Partnership Resources

There are resources to help grantees partner with health care providers to offer testing, vaccines, and mobile health unit services to survivors?

FVPSA-funded National Health Resource Center on Domestic Violence has developed two resources that can help states, territories, tribes, shelters, programs, and health care providers build and sustain strong partnerships.

- A step-by-step online guide for community health centers on building partnerships with Domestic Violence (DV) and Sexual Assault (SA) advocacy, addressing violence in health centers, and promoting prevention: IPVHealthPartners.org.
- An online toolkit for health care providers and DV advocates to prepare a clinical practice to address domestic and sexual violence, including screening instruments, sample scripts for providers, patient and provider educational resources: IPVHealth.org.

National Health Resource Center on DV (HRC)

The HRC provides national Training and Technical Assistance including the following:

- Free, downloadable health resources focusing on various specialties, populations and key issues. Including educational and clinical tools for providers and patients.
- Hosting a yearly free webinar series with expert presenters, and cutting edge topics.
- An online toolkit for health care providers and DV advocates to prepare a clinical practice to address domestic and sexual violence, and a step-by-step online guide for community health centers on building partnerships with DV/SA advocates.
- The National Conference on Health and Domestic Violence - a multidisciplinary meeting at which health, and domestic violence experts and leaders explore the latest research and programmatic responses to domestic violence.
