

TRIBAL HOME VISITING IN ACTION

2017

72,326

home visits provided
from 2012 – 2017

3,453

parents and children
served in 2017

64.4%

of participants have a
high school
diploma, GED
or less

45.0%

of households were under 50% of the
federal poverty
line in 2017*

77.7%

of children served
in 2017 were ages 2 or under

19 Tribal Home Visiting grantees completed community needs and readiness assessments and used the data to make informed decisions about program design and model selection, including a variety of enrichments, adaptation and enhancements.

**Households making less than $24,600 for a family of 4*

LEARN MORE

<https://go.usa.gov/xnfPk>

ADMINISTRATION FOR CHILDREN & FAMILIES

TRIBAL
HOME
VISITING

The Tribal Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting (MIECHV) program provides grants to tribal organizations to develop, implement, and evaluate home visiting programs in American Indian and Alaska Native communities. The Tribal Home Visiting program is funded by a 3 percent set-aside from the larger MIECHV program. Tribal Home Visiting grants are awarded to Indian tribes, consortia of tribes, tribal organizations, and urban Indian organizations.