Apply for benefits and services

▶ Visit local benefit-issuing agencies

▶ When you go to an office or agency, bring:

- Original Certification Letter (required)
- Social Security ID (required)

If you have not received a Social Security number, visit ssa.gov/locator or call 1-800-772-1213 to find your nearest Social Security Administration (SSA) office.

- Proof of household income for all working household members (required)
- Original passport or birth certificate (recommended)
- If applicable, proof of car ownership, property ownership, child care, recent bank statements, or rental agreement (recommended)

Remember:

You may not be eligible to receive all benefits, but you have the right to apply for public benefits regardless of your immigration status. A benefit-issuing agency should accept your HHS Certification Letter. If a benefit-issuing agency has questions about the Certification Letter, they should call the number listed in the letter. You have a right to ask for a supervisor if you feel like your rights are being denied or you are experiencing discrimination. Victims of a severe form of trafficking in persons with a T visa can access public benefits — it will not affect their Adjustment of Status (application for a Green Card).
