If the State elects to report on other benefits or activities provided through other program funding streams, please mention it after the TANF-funded benefits or activities for each item.

1. The State's definition of each work activity.

California's definition of each work activity is found in Section A.ii. of California's State Plan for Provision of Public Assistance Under the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, adopted October 1, 1999, with Plan last updated in December 2006 and the latest amendments submitted on March 30, 2007 and November 30, 2007, hereafter referred to as California's TANF State Plan.

2. A description of the transitional services provided to families no longer receiving assistance due to employment.

i. Licensed/regulated in-home child care: 0

ii. Licensed/regulated family child care: 0

iii. Licensed/regulated group home child care: 0

California has adopted the Family Violence Option, which is described in the Certification Section on number 7 of California's TANF State Plan. The aggregate figure for the total number of good cause domestic abuse waivers granted during Federal Fiscal Year 2010 is 3,937. This figure is based on actuals for the period of October 2009 through September 2010.

6. A description of any nonrecurrent, short-term benefits (as defined in 45 CFR 260.31(b)(1)) provided, including:

iii. Any procedures or activities developed under the TANF program to ensure that individuals diverted from assistance receive information about, referrals to, or access to other program benefits (such as Medicaid and food stamps) that might help them make the transition from welfare to work.

Diversion is an alternative to receiving long-term assistance under California Work Opportunity & Responsibility to Kids (CalWORKS). The diversion program is designed to provide upfront cash or services to solve short-term problems of families that are apparently eligible for CalWORKS. Families, at county discretion, can receive cash or non-cash payments or services with the intent of diverting the applicant from long-term aid. (i) To be eligible for diversion, a family must be apparently eligible for CalWORKS. Counties have the discretion to set the amount that will be paid. California's diversion program is a lump sum program. (ii) The diversion program has a diversion period that is the time frame represented by dividing the value of the diversion service or cash payment by the appropriate Maximum Aid Payment (MAP) level. If an individual reapplies within the diversion period and is determined eligible for CalWORKS, then the individual may choose to allow to either recoup the CalWORKS grant value of the diversion service or count the entire diversion period towards the time limit. If an individual reapplies for CalWORKS after the diversion period has ended and is determined eligible for aid, then only one month of the diversion period shall count toward the time limit. (iii) Families that receive diversion are provided information about potential eligibility for other programs. During the period of diversion, the applicant family, if otherwise eligible under each program's rules, shall be eligible for Medicaid, known as Medi-Cal in California and child care assistance.

Footnote to question number:

8. Total Number of Families Served under the Program with MOE funds

Family count is based on the combination of archived and preliminary CD - 801A data for the period of July 2009 – June 2010. Beginning July 2005, corresponding state and federal contracts were consolidated into one contract. As a result, these families are funded with both federal and MOE funds where the total family count is provided irrespective of funding. Information provided by California Department of Education as of March 11, 2011.

Attachment 1: Program 1 – CALWORKS (Authorized Under Prior Law)

8. Total Number of Families Served under the Program with MOE funds: 562,508

Since these families are funded with both TANF and MOE funds, a total family count is provided irrespective of funding.
