These questions may help you identify a trafficking victim:

- What type of work do you do?
- Are you being paid?
- Can you leave your job if you want to?
- Can you come and go as you please?
- Have you or your family been threatened?
- What are your working and living conditions like?
- Where do you sleep and eat?
- Do you have to ask permission to eat/sleep/go to the bathroom?
- Are there locks on the doors/windows so you cannot get out?
- Has your identification or documentation been taken from you?

If you think someone is a victim of human trafficking, call the Trafficking Information and Referral Hotline, 1.888.3737.888, to obtain information and to access supportive services for the victim.

If you are not in a position to question a potential victim of human trafficking, look for the following clues:

- Evidence of being controlled
- Evidence of inability to move or leave job
- Bruises or other signs of physical abuse
- Fear or depression
- Not speaking on own behalf and/or non-English speaking
- No passport or other forms of identification or documentation

Victims you identify and assist may help in the prosecution and conviction of their traffickers.

Trafficking Information and Referral Hotline, 1.888.3737.888

Restoring their lives, victims so they can begin the process of social services organizations to assist help victims and will coordinate with local law enforcement to identify local resources available to encounter victims of human trafficking. The trafficking information and referral hotline will help you determine if you have encountered victims of human trafficking. The person you have encountered or taken into custody may be a victim of human trafficking.